ABOUT

With powerhouse pipes that take you on a whiskey-soaked jaunt to your favorite honky-tonk in the absolute best way possible, KC Johns' music is as infectious and dynamic as she is. Think Miranda Lambert meets Sheryl Crow with a touch of Brandi Carlile, and you've got an artist with a voice all her own, tied tight around songs that make you feel like you've known her forever.

With deep roots in the Blues capital of the world, KC grew up in Memphis, where she was baptized in soul and fell hard for the stage, the spotlight, and songs that make the world go 'round.

"Music has always been that one thing in my life that digs up a smile when I feel like I'm buried under the rest of life," says KC. "I want other people to feel the same way."

Having discovered her stage legs young, KC jumped feet-first into this business called music, performing everywhere from Dollywood, where she was featured in Dolly Parton's "Christmas Coat of Many Colors," to cruise ships. After performing in ports throughout the Atlantic, the Caribbean, and everywhere in between, she made her way up the country music ladder, opening for artists like Luke Bryan, Chris Young, Randy Houser, and Trailer Choir.

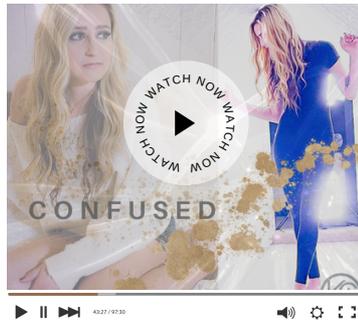

2022 was a continuation of a page-turner of a story for KC Johns, starting with the January release of a new single and video, "Confused," co-written with Timme Angsten and Tim Baumgartner and produced by Billy Smiley. "Confused" followed her popular 2021 single release, "Whiskey Break," and reached #89 on Nashville's Music Row radio chart. 2022 also saw the digital release of KC's 2021 full album, Thunder, and her single release of Meredith Brooks' "Nothing In Between," a tribute and cover of the hit 90's pop anthem on the 25th anniversary of its original release.

“For the first time in my life, I have met someone who seems to really understand the rawness and the restlessness in my soul,” says KC of her collaborations with Smiley. “We have so much fun writing and have really connected through the songs we have come up with, which just seem to keep getting better and better. They are me, they are my heart, and they have my energy and my soul. I hope they make other people feel as good listening as I did creating them.”

“FAMOUS” was the final release of 2022 from KC Johns with Smiley again producing. “FAMOUS” is energetic, upbeat lyrical entertainment. The companion “FAMOUS” video includes footage from KC’s recent Wisconsin tour and incorporates KC’s fans enthusiastic support for the new track.

“FAMOUS” touches the heart of why KC Johns sings. This wasn’t a song about romance for KC. It’s about the passionate faces in the audience every night. It is an anthem to the people who show up, support, download, listen and love KC and her music. The song is KC’s message to them – “You make me feel famous!”
